

SCIENCE Blood Heart – This topic focuses on developing the children’s understanding of how their body works. It also allows us to look at healthy lifestyles and mental well-being. This is a cross-curricular topics, so we will have the opportunity to develop a vast range of skills including model making, understanding healthy lifestyles, as well as conducting our own experiments!

