

HISTORY – Tribal Tales. This topic focuses on developing the children's understanding of prehistoric times. It also allows us to look at the life of prehistoric tribes and why and how monuments were built. This is a cross-curricular topics, so we will have the opportunity to develop a vast range of skills including art and geography, as well as conducting our own experiments, including looking at the properties of iron and life cycles of plants.

